Evening activities are not required, but most band members choose to attend – they're fun, and a great way to get to know your section and the band better!

The dining halls will be closed for dinner on Saturday, but there will be a campus barbecue after our performance (free for all). If a meal isn't listed, it isn't covered. Dinner on Wednesday is a section dinner on your own. Have fun with it!

The schedule has been designed to allow first-year students to attend the required meetings and activities for Wildcat Days. The only exception is the WildACTS program. If your dorm is scheduled to attend the performance during one of our rehearsals, we have approval from the Office of First-Year Programs for you to attend one of the non-conflicting performances instead. See the full Wildcat Days schedule to find one that works for you.

If you are attending the LGBTQA+ open house on Sunday, it's an open house so even though it starts at 3 you can pop in any time before 4:30.
